CHANGE

We never thought it'd come so soon,
The day when we must part,
But we take with us the memories,
Forever in our hearts.

For what we thought to be the end,
Was only just the start
Of learning what our lives will be,
And how to play our parts.

The people who we are today,
And who we will become
Are molded by our choice and change
In journeys yet to come.

Marching Band

The Wildcat Band spent this year preparing for their performances at the Walt Disney World Magic Music Days Celebration 2000. The "Wild" Band was selected to perform in "Future March" in Downtown Disney and at the Epcot Center over April vacation.

Audiences at the home football games and Thanksgiving Pep Rally were brought to their feet by the Wild Band's fall half-time show. Intricate drill maneuvers and powerful rhythms were accented by the new and improved WHS Color Guard.

The band earned their first silver medal in many years at the New England Scholastic Band Association competition, and they were invited to play at the NESBA finals, a Roslindale parade, and the Everett High School Homecoming parade. They also took second place in the Quincy parade for the second year in a row.

The Jazz Band had a very successful year as well, performing at dinner dances, numerous festivals, and local shows. Seniors Kim Faubert and Dan Cummings received Honorable Mentions while performing along with the rest of the Jazz Band at the 32nd annual Berklee Jazz Festival and the Abington Jazz Night.

The mark of the 1999 Weymouth High School Football Team was the outstanding level of preparation and determination of a group of dedicated seniors on this year's squad. These young men provided not only inspired leadership, but also a consistent focus on team goal's throughout the season. The final game of the year, played on Thanksgiving Day, was reflective of the season, as the team played with great spirit, determination, and pride.

Cheerleading

The cheerleaders prepared for the year by attending a camp sponsored by the Universal Cheerleading Association at Emmanuel College. There they learned many routines, dances, cheers, and chants. In the fall theyparticipated in the Bay State League Competition in Braintree. Though the squad lost several girls this fall, the remaining 12 members pulled together for the winter competition in Framingham. Although the opponents were very strong, the girls worked hard and gave their best performance of the year.

Dance Team

This year's Dance Team, led by Coach Barbara Copell and co-captains Liz Hickey and Kelly Grasso, started the year off strong at a week-long camp/competition over the summer. The girls performed at football and basketball games throughout the year and kept the crowds going with impressive, eye-popping routines. The girls also made their first appearances at the girls' basketball and boys' soccer games and danced at a charity Valentine's party at Immaculate Conception Church.

A big win over Braintree helped them clinch a tournament berth, and they ended the season with a record of 7-6-6. The members of the team had a great deal of fun this year, and they are very proud that they accomplished their goal of making the tournament.

The team was ably led by junior tri-captains Erika Picciotto, Karen McKinnon, and Nicole Bellows. Deserving special note are Jenn Klier, Karen McKinnon, Lauren Hawkesworth, and Nicky Pedretti, who were selected to compete in the State Individual Meet.

The future looks especially bright because this year's team has no seniors to lose to graduation.

Golf

After only three seasons in existence, the Golf Team has matured into a very competitive one this year. Adam Linden, John MacDonald, Chris Donadio, and Michael Eaton exhibited consistent play. Shawn Spellman, Matt LeVangie, Dave Wooten, Jordan Zukowski, Joe Sgambato, Rory O'Donnell, and Sean Welsh also turned in good rounds.

Adam Linden finished in the top ten of the Bay State League Match, and low scorer for the season was Chris Donadio.

Returning next year will be Mike Eaton, Shawn Spellman, Chris Donadio, Rory O'Donnell, Joe Sgambato, Dave Wooten, and Jordan Zukowski -- a nucleus for an even stronger team next season.

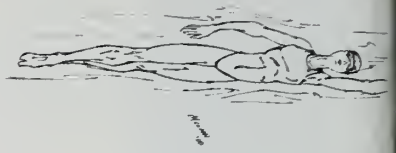
Swim Team



This year the Girls' Swim Team set new school records in two events: the 200-yard medley relay, swum by Katharine Neville, Lauren Hawkesworth, Stephanie Lewis, and Candace Mullen; and the 100-yard breast stroke, swum by Lauren Hawkesworth.

At the Bay State League Championships, Lauren Hawkesworth placed seventh in diving, and Stephanie Lewis placed eighth in diving and and was named an All-Star.

Kelly Engdahl was named team MVP, and all swimmers were able to achieve personal best times in their events.

They won their first three games, against Attleboro, Framingham, and Taunton, respectively, but lost the South Sectional Finals to Brockton at UMass Boston.

Bay State League All-Stars were Sarah McDonald, the leading scorer, and Allison MacPhee, the leading rebounder.

Boys' Basketball

The 1999-2000 Boys' Basketball team was led by captain Mark Dhooge and senior members Mark Flavin, Eric Greener, and Dave Donnellan. The pinnacle of the season was a 94-87 victory over tournament-bound Brookline. This was the first time the boys' basketball team had beaten Brookline. In addition, the team beat Natick, who made it to the South Sectional Finals, by a score of 53 to 51. Wins were also posted against Dedham and Milton. Receiving awards at the end of the season were Chris Hayes as Most Valuable Player and Mark Dhooge as Unsung Hero.

Girls' Volleyball

The Girls' Volleyball Team had a great season this year. Although they were a young team, they represented themselves well with a 10-10-0 record in the Bay State League and an 8-8-0 record overall. The team defeated many tougher opponents in the league and made it to the first round of the playoffs. They lost to Falmouth but took them to five games in their attempt to move ahead in the tournament. Still, making the tournament was the high point of the season.

Boys' Volleyball

With a record of 17-5 in 1999, the Boys' Volleyball Team had their most successful season ever and became South Sectional Finalists. However, most of the team graduated last year, leaving captain Gary Mak the only returning starter to lead the team against strong Bay State League competition in 2000.

Other returning varsity players are seniors Adam Linden, Dan Morris, and Greg Affsa; junior David Wooten; and sophomore Eric Leitao. Although the team may lack experience, they will certainly not lack effort in their attempt to continue the winning ways of the program.

Girls' Indoor Track

This season the Girls' Indoor Track Team achieved a number of milestones. Two school records were set, one by Stefanie Zopatti in the 600 meter (1:46) and the other by Sarah Shapiro in the two mile (11:41:8). Sarah Shapiro was also named Bay State League All-Star.

Six athletes competed at the Class A Championships: Marissa Ruffini, Stefanie Zopatti, Sarah Shapiro, Laura Frado, Liz Grammer, and Julie Gregg. In addition, Sarah Shapiro achieved a seventh-place ranking in the All State Meet and a sixteenth-place standing in the All New England Meet.

Boys' Indoor Track

The Boys' Indoor Track season was highlighted by intense competition from start to finish. Although a .500 season resulted, Weymouth surprised the top-ranked Bay State League opponent, Newton North, with a close meet early in the season and continued this "never quit" attitude into the rest of the dual meets and into the Eastern Massachusetts and State Meets. Team stand-outs included: Jon Aldoupolis in high jump and hurdles, Glaudson de Jesus in hurdles, Mike Best in the dashes, Tom McAuliffe in the mile, Greg McIntosh in the two-mile, and Andy Bober in the 1000m. Special thanks go to team captains Chris Julian, Andy Bober, and Pierre Rodgers.

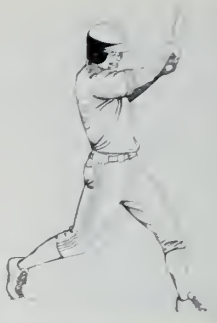
Baseball



The Wildcat Baseball Team hopes to rebound from a disappointing 1999 season, which saw the team post an 8-12-0 record. Despite victories over the Division 2 State Champion (Dedham) and the South Sectional Finalists (Framingham and BC High), the team could not put forth consistent effort over the entire season.

Girls' Tennis

The Girls' Tennis Team faced some strong competition in their second year in the Bay State League. Brookline, Newton, and Wellesley were especially tough, but the team's record improved overall. Captains Nikki Audette and Kerry Bauer provided excellent leadership for the thirty-five member team.

Boys' Tennis

Optimism runs high this year on the Boys' Tennis Team. Weymouth will be strong at the singles 1, 2, and 3 positions because the team has a great deal of depth and much returning talent. The efforts of Captain Jeff Chmielinski and standout Nick Contrino, supported by Brian Griffin and Matt Boudreau, will contribute to the team's success, but the season's record will depend on the play of the doubles teams.

Girls' Spring Track

Katie Hubbard

The Girls' Spring Track Team had a very competitive season last year. Although the team did not finish with a winning record, the accomplishments of the girls are not diminished.

Led by last year's senior captains, Carolyn Smith, Kristen Eaton, Betsy Logan, and Kate Mitsch, the team always gave its best effort. Proudly carrying the school colors, they displayed great school spirit.

These girls have given this year's team the inspiration to improve on last season's record while maintaining the same high degree of commitment and spirit.

Led by seniors John Aldoupolis, Chris Julian, Eric Greener, Paul Smith, John Mayo, Brendon Dowling, Andrew Bober, Greg McIntosh, Dan Chretien, and Jared Chase, the Boys' Spring Track Team got off to a .500 start after four meets. The season so far has been highlighted by some outstanding efforts in specific events: Paul Smith in javelin, Andrew Bober in the 800, Joe Kearney in the shot put, Greg McIntosh in the two mile, Glaudsen De Jesus in the hurdles, Mike Best in sprints, and the 4x800 relay team at the relays. The team has high hopes of improving its record as the season progresses.

Boys' Lacrosse

Due to the graduation of most of its starters, the 1999 Boys' Lacrosse Team was inexperienced and lacked skills. They lost in the second round of the tournament to rival Hingham and ended the season with a 10-8-0 record. The team worked hard to improve their skills, and as a result, his year's team is heavily populated by highly-skilled seniors, most of whom play other sports for the school in other seasons. The 2000 Boys' Lacrosse Team has already upset two formidable team, Newton North and Lincoln-Sudbury, encouraging them that their hard work will result in a memorable and successful season.

A Banner Year

Far from being problematic, Y2K was a very successful year for Weymouth High School/Vocational Technical High School. The Drama Society advanced to the Semifinals of the Massachusetts Drama Guild competition with their production of The Whole Shebang. For the second year in a row, the Math Team won their respective divisions and the playoff competitions in both leagues in which they compete, came in seventh in the State Competition, and thirteenth in the New England Competition in May. The Academic Decathlon Team placed first in the Massachusetts Large School division in November and won the Super Quiz trophy, won the State Championship in March, and went on to compete at the Nationals in San Antonio, Texas, in April where they placed first in their division and seventh overall. The Intermediate Computer Team was one of only fifteen schools in the country to travel to Houston, Texas, over Memorial Day weekend to compete in the American Computer Science League All-Star Contest. At the Southeast Tech Prep Consortium Entrepreneurship Competition, Adam Murphy and Victoria DeRosa received a first-place award, and Jason Stocker and Matthew Deacon received a second-place prize. The Wildcat Band went to Disney World over April vacation where the Marching Band received first-place honors, the Concert Band received a second-place award, and the Jazz Band earned a gold medal for excellence. Finally, as a result of a stunning Carnegie Hall performance last year, the Chorus will be appearing at the Olympics in Sydney, Australia, in the summer of 2000. These groups and their advisors have brought much credit to the high school and to the entire community. They are to be heartily congratulated.

Yearbook

Editor-in-Chief Christine Allen

"Special thanks to those of you who helped with yearbook this year. We couldn't have done it without you."

This year's yearbook staff was a small but dedicated group. They met every day after school and during their study periods to put together a book of memories especially for the senior class but for the rest of the student body as well. Their hard work paid off with the completion of this year's book.

In the November Regional Semi-finals, the Academic Decathlon Team finished first out of 55 teams statewide, achieving the highest aggregate score and winning the Super Quiz trophy. The team then competed for the State Championship on March 11, and again placed first, earning the right to represent Massachusetts at the Nationals in San Antonio, Texas, in April. There the team placed first in its division and seventh overall of the 38 states represented in the competition. Chris Lamie received a gold medal and Jeff Bacon earned a silver, and all members of the team contributed to Weymouth's best showing ever.

The Honor Society is an organization which recognizes students who display outstanding scholarship, character, leadership, and service. This year, the 30 seniors on the Honor Societycollected over $250.00 for UNICEF and over 650 food items for needy families in Weymouth. Most of the December candy cane sales were earmarked for the second annual scholarship in memory of former advisor, Robert McCarthy. Spring projects included the annual Red Cross blood drive and the American Cancer Society's daffodil sale, which was a joint project with Student Senate, VICA, and the senior class.

The Student Senate has had a busy but fun year of continued service to the school and community. As an organization dedicated to promoting student self-government, it has served as a forum for the discussion of issues of concern to the student body. Working closely with faculty and administration, members of the Student Senate have given time and effort to improving student life through school beautification by planting bulbs in the courtyards and to fostering school spirit by sponsoring Spirit Week in November, the faculty-student volleyball game in February, and the ever-popular Spring Fling casual dance in May. In addition to serving the school community, the Student Senate has also reached out to the greater community by promoting reading at the Read Across America event in March and by raising money for the American Cancer Society and for gifts for needy Weymouth children at Christmas. Student Senate members can be proud to have left their mark on their school and community.

Math Team

The Weymouth High School Mathematics Team has had a very successful season. The team competes in two different leagues, the Southeastern Massachusetts Mathematics League (SMML) and the Greater Boston Mathematics League (GBML). These leagues are very different and require a different type of preparation. The SMML is a calculator-driven league, while in the GBML calculators are not allowed. Each league is split into two divisions according to their loyalty. In the SMML, the teams that obtain the highest scores throughout the year determine the playoff competition. In the GBML, there are three sites for the playoffs and the cumulative scores throughout the year determine these. For the second year in a row, the Weymouth High School Math Team has won their respective divisions and has won the playoff competitions in both leagues. Because of their fine preformances, the team will compete in the Massachusetts State Competition and in the New England Competition.

Words Not Weapons

Words Not Weapons is an organization which hopes to spread its anti-violence, pro-peace message throughout the high school, as well as the community at large. This year, the group comprised about forty members who spent a great deal of time on community service projects focused on decreasing the violence in our society and promoting peace.

The Diversity Club was started last year with the hope of increasing awareness of cultural differences among students at the high school. In its second year, the club has continued the traditions established by the founding members. For example, the bulletin board displays reflected the theme for the year, "Stop the Hate." In addition, members focused on multi-cultural issues, held international food tasting parties, and participated in the Health Issues Seminar for juniors and seniors which was held in April.

Membership in SADD continues to grow each year, and the group now has over 60 members. This year the students in SADD have been very active. In March, members visited third and fourth grade classes at the Pingree School to discuss choosing to be alcohol and drug free. In April, they helped the fifth graders in Dare Officer James Bowen's classes at Abigail Adams Intermediate School write letters encouraging members of this year's senior class to stay alcohol anddrug free, especially during prom time and through graduation. SADD plans to be actively involved in all the celebrations of the Class of 2000.

SADD members were especially honored to receive a donation from the Union Street School Parent Council. This contribution was made in memory of Kaitlyn De Cubellis, a 15-year-old girl who was killed by a drunk driver on Halloween night in 1999.

Mock TrialTeam

This year's Mock Trial Team is a dedicated and highly-talented group of students. This year will be the last for seniors Tom Fleenor, Liz Joyce-Brandt, and Annie Hanlon. The members spent many hours after school reviewing affidavits and writing the types of questions asked in actual trials. There are high hopes and expectations that this group will go far in the tournaments this year.

Rotary Interact

This year the Rotary Interact Club has done some very worthwhile volunteer work. In December, they helped Habitat for Humanity build a house in Rockland. In March, they held a raffle which raised close to $1000.00 to support education in the Philippines. In April, they participated in a project called "Christmas in April," during which they built another house. The club has accomplished a great deal considering its relatively small membership of about twenty students. They worked hard and hope the club continues to grow in order to help others even more. Their motto is "Service above self."

1999-2000 was a successful first year for the Weymouth High School newspaper, Paw Prints. The staff worked diligently to publish a multi-page edition each month. In addition, the newspaper held various contests and awarded prizes, including a $20.00-dollar gift certificate to a local restaurant. The staff is looking forward to many more contests and to many more great years of newspaper production.

The Peer Mediation Program was very active this year. The group completed a brochure describing their services, attended training sessions with peer mediators from Boston English High School, conducted a program for parents on conflict resolution, and increased the number of peer mediators. One highlight of the year was the first fund raiser, a "Fun Night" for young children.

Astonished by the number of talented writers,painters, and photographers in the school, the members of the Reflections staff are committed to bringing this talent to a larger audience.

The staff is also hoping to encourage burgeoning writers, those just developing their talents. For these reasons, they sponsored a "coffeehouse" poetry reading for student writers.

In addition, the staff worked very hard this year to produce a magazine that would be even bigger and better than last year's. This year's edition will also feature the winners of the poetry contest sponsored by the South Shore Poets.

From December 9 -12, eight students from WHS joined with over 2,000 students from six continents at the 47th annual Harvard Model United Nations Conference at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel. The WHS students assumed the role of Venezuela and faced the same issues world leaders confront daily. They attended meetings, planned policy papers, and considered and debated the politicial, economic, and social issues of their world. Nicole Audette, Richard Ghiorse, Rachel Henry, Michelle Kelley, Michelle LaFrance, Chris Lamie, Xin Li, and Thomas Ziniti were accompanied to the conference by social studies teacher Patricia Marinos. The students returned to their classrooms with reports of their experiences as representatives of their high school and their town.

School-to-Career Internships offer juniors and seniors the opportunity to explore career options through unpaid work during the school day. These supervised internships, for which students receive academic credit, involve approximately 100 businesses close to the high school. Fields included are: accounting, sales, banking, auto repair, legal services, insurance, food services, health care, fashion design, and interior design. Transportation is provided by the high school, and the employer and program coordinator decide on the best internship for each student, depending on his or her abilities and interests. In addition to work experience, this program provides students contact with a variety of adults who may eventually become their academic career planners and mentors.

The film club attracted approximately 30 members in its inaugural year. These lovers of cinema hoped to bring film culture to the high school. The group viewed diverse domestic, foreign, and independent films and analyzed film technique, cinematography, and direction.

Among the films viewed and discussed were Fritz Lang's Metropolis, Vittorio DeSica's The Bicycle Thief, the Marx Brothers' Night at the Opera and such modern works as Waiting for Guffman, Smoke Signals, and Do the Right Thing. In addition, the group sponsored larger showings of films, such as Jaws, for the school.

This was the inaugural year of Weymouth High School's Speech and Debate Team. For its first year, the team focused on speech tournaments, but next year the team will move to Lincoln-Douglas style debating. The members of this new activity did an outstanding job and gained valuable experience during their first year.

The Intermediate and Senior Computer Teams have entered four American Computer Science League competitions this year. Weymouth had two teams with a total of 23 students involved in thess four competitions. Students are divided into two groups: Intermediate (students in beginning programming courses) and Senior (students in advanced programming courses). Each competition consists of a program and a written test. Students are provided with program specifications by the ACSL, and they then take a test on computer science topics. The outstanding performance of the Intermediate Team earned them an invitation to the ACSL All-Star Contest, to which only the top fifteen schools in the country are invited in each of three divisions. Seven high-scoring students from Weymouth will compete in Houston, Texas, this Memorial Day weekend, five as starters and two as alternates.

Automotive

Auto Service Technology students acquire the basic knowledge and skills required to diagnose problems in both the mechanical and electrical systems of automobiles and to make the necessary repairs. Students are trained in the latest procedures on the most current equipment used in the automotive industry.

Carpentry

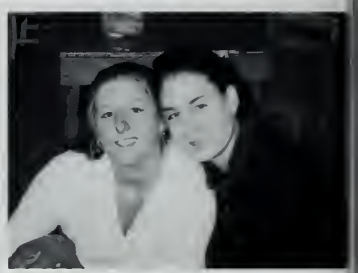
Carpentry introduces students to the tools and machinery used in quality wood shops. The basics of the building trade, such as floor framing, foundations, and wall construction, as well as other aspects of on-site construction, are stressed. After successfully completing Construction Technology I -III, students will have the background to go on to technical schools or to enter the largest group of skilled tradesmen in the United States labor force.

Cosmetology

Cosmetology is a two or three year program designed to help students obtain a license in hairdressing from the state of Massachusetts. All areas of cosmetology are taught, including: skin care, manicuring, hair coloring, and permanent waving. Community service, such as working in nursing homes and with cancer patients, is also required. In order to graduate, seniors must complete a CBVE (Competency-Based Vocational Education) professional portfolio.

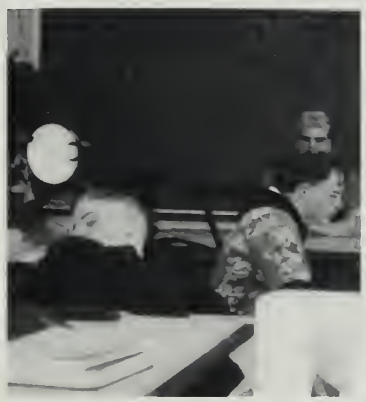
Child Care

The Child Care Program is designed to give students hands-on experience with children in order to prepare them for related professions or for their future roles as parents. Students learn to teach activities, guide behavior, and care for the needs of infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Upon successful completion of Child Care, students receive a vocational certificate and fulfill the requirements for a certificate from the state Office for Children.



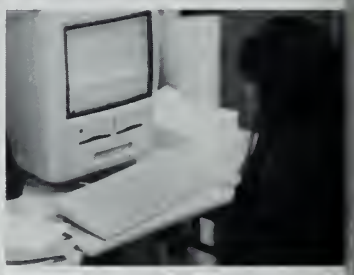
Drafting

The Drafting Program presents students with drafting problems similar to those encountered in the world of work. Computer software helps them learn the different techniques used in the field of drafting. To enhance their skills, students work on a variety of projects, from industrial building plans to house plans. They also draw plans for heating and ventilation systems.



Electronics

Students taking this course learn electronic circuit theory, as well as how to service many types of computers. Analyzing parts helps them assemble and install some of the components needed to make the computers work. In addition, students install and configure network interfacing cards and learn how to install software and cable using networking techniques.



Graphic Arts

Today, graphic arts is considered an important part of the field of communications. The students in the Graphic Arts Program learn layout and design using the Macintosh computer. They then apply these skills in the production of all the printed material used in the daily operation of the Weymouth Public Schools. In addition, students produce printed clothing for sale in the school store.

Sheet Metal

The Sheet Metal Program is designed to prepare students for employment in all areas of the industry. Students are instructed in the use of the machinery and equipment actually used in the trade. The welding component of the program teaches students how to perform oxyacetylene burning, heli-arc, and M.I.G. welding operations. They also learn the installation and maintenance of air conditioning systems.

An Appreciation

Ray T. Granai

Anthony Ciampa

With their retirement at the end of academic year 1999-2000, Assistant Principals Ray T. Granai and Anthony Ciampa have completed a combined total of seventy-four years of service to the students of Weymouth. Each man has spent his entire professional life in the Weymouth Public Schools.

Mr. Ciampa began his career as a mathematics teacher at Central Junior High in 1961. He became Assistant Principal of East Junior High and remained there until he became Assistant Principal of South Junior High in 1985. In 1989, he became Assistant Principal of North High and remained Assistant Principal of that building when North, South, and the Vocational Technical High Schools combined in 1990.

Mr. Granai began teaching social studies and English in 1963 at South Junior High. When South High opened in 1970, he became one of its first assistant principals. In 1991, he joined Mr. Ciampa as Assistant Principal at Weymouth High School.

In addition to their responsibility of disciplining students, both men have spent countless hours organizing and chaperoning dances and supporting the various athletic teams and performing arts groups.

Thousands of students will have their individual memories of each man, but no one will ever forget Mr. Ciampa's melodious readings of the morning and afternoon announcements or Mr. Granai's incredibly careful preparations for graduation exercises.

When school opens in September, not only the office but also the entire building will have a decidedly different feel without Mr. Granai and Mr. Ciampa. They will be greatly missed. We wish them well.

Ricky's family and I would like to wish you all the happiness that the world can bring you. I want you all to know that I still listen to the tape. It's a blessing, and I hope you know that all of you are, too. Thank you for the bottom of our hearts.

Steps

With each new step we start to take,
We open up a door
With new choices and decisions
We've never seen before.

It's hard to know what lies ahead,
But we must trust our hearts
To guide us where we ought to be
And help our lives to start.

The days we have ahead of us
Are sure to fly by fast.
We must remember friends and fun.
The memories will surely last.

Christine Allen '03

Friends to the end

Thanks for the memories!

The Class of 2000 was extremely fortunate to have the memories of their senior year preserved forever in a video format. For her Maroon and Gold Scholar project, Justine Warwick videotaped and edited hours of events and synchronized the action to popular songs. The Class of 2000 wishes to express their gratitude to Justine for all her hard work. Now, in addition to our yearbook, we will have this amazing video to help us remember our last year at Weymouth High School/Vocational Technical High School. Thanks for the memories, Justine.
